

Acupuncture Books

Acupuncture Products 18. ACUPUNCTURE BOOKS

institute of the academy of traditional chinese medicine acupuncture and moxibustion, of marked efficacy and requiring but simple equipment, have been widely popular in china and elsewhere for thousands of years. The book consists of three parts. Part 1 is devoted to a general description of the basic knowledge of traditional chinese medicine. In part 2. channels, collateral and acupuncture points are introduced. Part 3 dwells on acupuncture and moxibustion therapy. Ear acupuncture therapy and acupuncture analgesia are also dealt with. Popular in style with fairly concise presentation, the book is written with the intention of maintaining an integral theoretical system of chinese acupuncture and moxibustion so as to give readers a comprehensive concept of chinese acupuncture. For further study, it is advisable to combine theory with practice for perfection of the art. (Rs. 1500/-) 02. Chinese acupuncture and moxibustion: Chief editor Cheng Xinnong Based upon essentials of chinese acupuncture, used as a textbook by the international acupuncture training centers in beijing, shanghai and nanjing, chinese acupuncture and moxibustion incorporates the rich experience of class teaching and clinical practice and the results of acupuncture and stressing the integration of theory and practice. The book was compiled by the international acupuncture training centers and acupuncture institute of china. Academy of traditional chinese medicine, on commission of the ministry of public health.

(Rs. 1700/-) 03. The miracle of acupuncture: Tu Xi Acupuncture-moxibustion therapy has existed for more than 2,000 years. Through the ages chinese practitioners have enriched and perfected it with the theories of yin-yang, zang-fu (the viscera), Channels and collateral, qi(vital energy), blood and body fluid, creating a unique and effective therapeutic system. Acumoxi therapy not only deals successfully with a hundred odd common diseases -in internal medicine, surgery, obstetrics, gynecology, paediatrics, etc.- but is high value in the treatment of some difficult and complicated cases considered quite hopeless by western medicine. It is welcomed by people in china and also people in different parts of the world for its unparalleled safety, low cost, lack of side effects and simple equipment . (Rs. 900/-) 04.

Traditional chinese internal medicine: Xie zhufan & Liao Jiazhen Originally written in english. this book gives an academic introduction of the basic theory and practice of traditional chinese internal medicine. It is intended for overseas medical practitioners as well as those who are interested in traditional chinese medicine, and uses modern research to explain traditional chinese medicine's approach to diagnosis and treatment in internal medicine. (Rs. 1100/-) 05.

Essentials of traditional chinese paediatrics: Compiled by Cao Jiming, Su Xinming, Cao Junqi. The book systematically expounds the basic knowledge of traditional chinese paediatrics, and the differentiation of syndromes and treatment of children's disease. Chinese herbal medicine is the main method of treatment. In order to enhance the therapeutic effects, acupuncture and chinese massage therapy are also introduced according to actual conditions. This book is intended for those who are already practising chinese herbal medicine, acupuncture and chinese massage therapy and are somewhat familiar with the theory and practice of traditional chinese medicine. Pediatrician of both chinese and western medicine, and acupuncture and massage practitioners will find this book a highly useful reference text. (Rs. 900/-) 06.

Test: chinese acupuncture and moxibustion: Cui Yongqiang and Chen Ken This book has been compiled on the basis of basic TCM principles and clinical observations, at the same time referring to traditional modes of chinese acupuncture and moxibustion tests and relevant teaching materials currently in use in china and abroad. Containing multiple-choice and traditional questions together with their correct answers, the book is useful as a source of ideas for the teachers in the construction of new questions, and aid to students planning to take tests of the subjects, and a means by which to assess one's own progresses in acquiring TCM knowledge. (Rs. 1100/-) 07.

Acupuncture, meridian theory and acupuncture points: Li Ding The book consists of two parts: the meridian theory and acupuncture points. It supplies many ideas from different schools, gives abundant information, and systematically introduces the theories of the 14 meridians, the acupuncture points, and their development. It provides a clear explanation of names of all the acupuncture points and gives a thorough description of points, locations of points, their indications, and the methods of locating points. (Rs. 1500/-) 08. Integrating chinese and western medicine: A handbook for practitioners Zhang Junwen, Bai Yongquan and Chen Longshun. The combined therapy described in this book is based on the scientific approaches and modern knowledge of western medicine in examination, diagnoses and treatment and the scientifically proved traditional chinese medical wholist concept of viewing the various parts of human body as an organic whole and the therapies such as herbs, acupuncture, cupping point-injection, etc. The management of the 39 diseases described in the book are the creative and effective results of the authors' clinical research and practice, covering a wide range of diseases of different systems of the human body with unique therapies that surpass those of either western or traditional chinese medicine and can satisfactorily cure by one or the other medicine alone. The therapies and management are presented in such a way, the authors hope, that even doctors without any knowledge of traditional chinese medicine will have no problem in using them. (Rs. 800/-) 09.

Fundamentals of traditional chinese medicine: Yin Huihe and others. The theories and fundamental knowledge described in this book is the basis for other branches of chinese medicine and pharmacology, as well as a must for both chinese and foreign readers that intended to study this traditional health system. (Rs. 1400/-)

Acupuncture Products10.

TCM: Clinical case studies Edited by Chen Keji : This collection of traditional chinese medicine clinical case studies contains a total of 140 most outstanding cases of numerous specialists of traditional medicine and integrated traditional & western medicine practices. These cases encompass various medical specialties including medicine, surgery, obstetrics & gynecology, paediatrics, ENT and dermatology. Each of these cases comes with detailed case analysis, diagnoses based on traditional & western medicine, TCMsymptom-complex differentiation as well as scientifically oriented discussions and followups. This collection is suitable as a source of clinical reference for chinese and foreign scholars pursuing knowledge of TCM and integration of TCM and western medicine. It is also ideal as additional reading to undergraduate and postgraduate students of TCM schools. (Rs. 1500/-) 11. Effective points therapy of acupuncture: Mao Qunhui Effective points therapy of acupuncture is the first book of its kind to provide a succinct introduction to Prof. Guo Xiaozong's effective points therapy for western readers. Effective points therapy is a self-contained system which is very effective for the treatment of a wide range of diseases, especially difficult and complicated ones such as nodular goiter, hemiplegia and pain syndrome. Stressing the integration of the theory with clinical treatment, this book contains diagnoses based on TCM and western medicine, and many diagrams. Easy to understand, this book is suitable for both beginners and experienced acupuncturists. (Rs. 900/-) 12.

Acupuncture-Cure for common diseases: An excellent guide to anybody who wishes to learn the basics of acupuncture and get treatment done by Dr. Raman Kapur & Dr. Sunita Kapur. (Rs. 75/-) 13.

Soft Lasers in Medical Practice: This book is an excellent guide for all doctors who are using lasers in practice particularly the orthopedic doctors, the Acupuncturist, cosmetologist, dentist and the skin specialist by Dr. Raman Kapur. (Rs. 250/-) 14.

Light and needless - A guide for acupuncture by Dr. Manik G. Hiranandini (Rs. 75/-) 15.

Qdex :- A quick index guide of acupoints in the form of table calendar. (Rs.5000/-) 16.

Book on Neuro Acupuncture ( Rs. 3750/-)